

Tax Lien Sale

In 2018, the Alabama State Legislature passed Act 2018-577, giving tax collecting officials an alternative remedy for collecting delinquent property taxes by the sale of a tax lien instead of the sale of property. Tallapoosa County Revenue Commission has decided to migrate to the sale of tax liens. All tax liens representing unpaid and delinquent taxes on real property are subject to a public auction.

1. What authorizes the Tallapoosa County Revenue Commissioner to hold a tax lien auction?

In 2018, Governor Kay Ivey signed into law Act 2018-577, providing counties an alternative remedy for collecting delinquent property taxes by the sale of a tax lien. This law vests the taxing official with the authority to use either the sale of a tax lien or the sale of property to collect delinquent property taxes each year.

2. What is a tax lien auction and what is its purpose?

A tax lien auction is the public sale of all tax liens advertised under Alabama Code § 40-10-182 and held no earlier than March 1 or later than June 15 of the current ad valorem tax year where the awarding of the tax lien certificate is based on the lowest interest rate bid on a tax lien.

The purpose of the tax lien auction is to secure payment of delinquent real property taxes in Tallapoosa County. Tallapoosa County property owners are required to pay property taxes annually to the Revenue Commissioner. Real property taxes become due and payable on October 1 of each year, and become delinquent if not paid before midnight, December 31.

The Revenue Commissioner is authorized to secure payment of delinquent taxes through a tax lien auction, in which the perpetual first priority lien provided by Alabama Code § 40-1-3 is sold and transferred to a purchaser through a public auction, to recover any taxes assessed and levied against the property, along with interest, penalties, fees, and costs.

3. What is the date, time, and location of Tallapoosa County's tax lien auction?

Date: April 7, 2026

Time: Auction starts at 10:00 AM (CST) and will continue each day until the auction is complete.

12. What software or equipment do I need to be able to participate?

In order to participate in the online tax lien auction, a bidder must have a computer with internet access and a web browser (recommended: Internet Explorer 8.0 or higher, Firefox, Safari, or Chrome). If you do not have access to a computer, most public libraries generally have computers that are available for public use.

13. Do you allow investors to invest in tax lien certificates without attending the auction via mail or telephone or fax?

No. All accepted bidders must participate in the online tax lien auction at GovEase.com. Accepted bidders may participate in a pre-bid process that begins online, April 6, 2026. GovEase has provided training information located here regarding the pre-bidding process.

14. What is the bidding process?

A tax lien shall be sold at auction. A lien includes all taxes, interest, penalties, fees, and costs due on the property as of the date of the auction. Bidding is not based on the amount of money the buyers of a tax lien are willing to pay. The amount required to purchase the tax lien is already set. Bids are based on the amount of interest the buyers are willing to accept as full payment on the lien. The lien is sold to the bidder bidding the lowest interest rate on the amount required to be paid to redeem the property from the auction. The beginning interest rate bid shall not exceed a rate of 12%. Additional bids may be made at a rate less than the immediately preceding bid. The bids will be in 1% increments until no bidder continues to bid lower or until the interest rate reaches 0%. Example: If the current bid is 12%, the next acceptable bid will be 11% or lower until bidding stops or reaches 0%.

Pre-bidding will be available. Pre-bidding allows bidders the convenience of reviewing properties and selecting the minimum interest rate they are willing to accept on a property at live auction.

15. During the auction, what will happen if more than one bidder submits an interest rate bid of 0%?

If the interest rate bid for the property reaches 0% and more than one bidder remains, the winning bid shall be determined by a random number generator.

16. How much time do I have to bid on each tax lien that is put up for auction?

Each tax lien offered for auction will be open for bidding for 30 seconds. However, in the event that a bid is placed in the last 10 seconds, the clock will automatically be reset for an additional 10 seconds, to allow other interested bidders the opportunity to submit further bids.

17. What type of document is issued after the tax lien auction?

A bid report and a tax lien certificate. After the tax lien auction is over, “winning” bidders will receive their bid reports with a list of parcel numbers purchased and the corresponding amounts due.

The certificate will include the auction date, lien holder, the assessment year to which the tax lien relates, the amount of all taxes, penalties, interest, fees, and costs due on the property as of the date of the auction, and the interest rate per annum bid on the parcel.

18. What happens to any other encumbrances on the property when I purchase a tax lien?

The sale of a tax lien does not extinguish any deed restriction, deed covenant, easement on or appurtenant to the parcel. A tax lien purchased from the County has higher priority than other existing liens on the property.

19. How will the property owner find out who purchased a tax lien on the property?

Within 30 days after the tax lien auction closes, the Revenue Commissioner will send notice by first class mail to the owner at the address listed in the property assessment, informing that the tax lien has been auctioned. The notice will include the date of the auction and the name and address of the tax lien purchaser.

20. Are there any other expenses related to the auction, in addition to the costs of the lien?

The costs of the lien will include all the cost associated with the auction process including a $45.00 administrative fee.

21. If I am awarded the tax lien, will I be required to pay subsequent taxes each year?

If the holder of a tax lien certificate fails to exercise the first right to purchase a subsequent tax lien, an amount equal to the redemption price of that tax lien shall be added to the purchase price at a subsequent tax lien sale or auction and the tax lien certificate shall be transferred to the purchaser of the subsequent tax lien. A transfer shall vest in the transferee all the right and title of the previous holder to the tax lien certificate, the previous tax lien certificate shall be canceled, and a new tax lien certificate shall be issued to the purchaser. The amount paid for the transfer shall be distributed to the previous holder, along with a notice of cancelation of the previous tax lien certificate, within 30 days of the receipt of the purchase price.

22. May I transfer or sell my tax lien certificate to someone else?

Yes, a tax lien certificate may be transferred and assigned to another party. Please refer to Alabama Code § 40-10-187\(e\) for additional information on transferring tax lien certificates.

23. Is ownership in the property transferred to the purchaser of the tax lien?

No, as a tax lien purchaser, you are not acquiring any right, title or interest in the property. You are only purchasing a lien against the property based on delinquent taxes.

If a tax lien that was purchased pursuant to this article is not redeemed and the holder of the tax lien certificate fails to commence a tax lien foreclosure action on or before 10 years from the date of the tax lien certificate the tax lien certificate shall expire and the lien shall become void.

24. If I own property for which a tax lien was auctioned in a prior year, can I pay my current year taxes without paying the holder of the previous year's tax lien?

No, a property owner must redeem all outstanding tax liens on the property before paying the current year taxes due.

25. How do you redeem a tax lien that has been sold at auction?

Tax lien redemptions must be made through the Tallapoosa County Revenue Commissioner's office. Redemptions can be made any time following the close of the auction, before judgment of foreclosure is entered. Redemption payments must be made in certified funds (cash, cashier's check, money order). In order to redeem, one must pay off the amount of the debt as specified in the tax lien certificate, which consists of delinquent taxes, interest, penalties, fees, and costs, plus the interest due to the purchaser of the tax lien, as specified in the tax lien certificate and a $10 redemption fee.

The following may redeem tax liens: (1) The owner, including a partial owner of less than whole in the real property, or heirs or personal representative; (2) Any mortgagee or purchaser of the property or any portion of the property; or (3) Any person listed under Alabama Code § 40-10-120\(a\), if the property has been sold for taxes.

Please note, if a tax lien that was purchased pursuant to this article is not redeemed and the holder of the tax lien certificate fails to commence a tax lien foreclosure action on or before 10 years from the date of the tax lien certificate the tax lien certificate shall expire and the lien shall become void.

26. What will be issued by the Revenue Commissioner's office to prove that a tax lien has been redeemed?

Once an application to redeem the tax lien has been made by a person who has the right to redeem, and payment for the amount due has been received, the Revenue Commissioner's office will issue to the redeeming individual a certificate of redemption appended to a copy of the certificate of tax lien, stating the date of redemption, amount paid, and by whom redeemed. The Revenue Commissioner's office will make entries in the record of tax lien auctions of the above, and mail a copy of the redemption certificate to the holder of the tax lien certificate.

27. What happens to the liens that are not sold at the tax lien auction? Can they be purchased over-the-counter directly from the county? Can I purchase them now?

Tax liens that are not sold at auction are held by Tallapoosa County. Remaining liens can be purchased over-the-counter at the Revenue Commissioner's office for no less than all taxes, interest, penalties, costs, and fees; the interest rate may not exceed 12%. Any tax liens remaining unsold after the auction or sale shall be included in future tax lien auctions or sales until they are sold.

Current year tax liens are not available for purchase because they are not yet delinquent and have not been offered for sale at the annual tax auction. Please contact our office at 256-825-7818 ext.2 for more information about unsold tax liens.

29. Does a tax lien that is purchased at auction ever expire?

Pursuant to Alabama Code § 40-10-197, if a tax lien purchased at auction is not redeemed and the holder of the tax lien certificate does not bring a foreclosure action within 10 years from the date of the certificate, the tax lien certificate expires and the lien becomes void.
